Preparing for Christmas

To all who helped make the holidays a little brighter this year:

Members of the Galesburg High School Interact Club made 200 stockings for children served by Safe Harbor.

The holiday season proves to be a difficult time for victims of domestic violence and their children. The staff and clients at Safe Harbor Family Crisis Center would like to thank all those who generously contributed to our program this holiday season. With their help, we were able to put food on tables and gifts under trees that might have otherwise been bare. Thanks to the selfless support of area businesses, organizations, and individuals, 200 children from our community enjoyed a very merry Christmas this year.

Safe Harbor staff and volunteers joined together to create a fun, festive night for our clients and their children at our annual Christmas Party.

Christmas carols, crafts, and cookies set the mood as we waited for the guest of honor to arrive—Santa Claus! Families had their pictures taken with the big guy, and the children “shopped” for gifts for their moms to open on Christmas Day.

Safe Harbor's 18th Take Back the Night Rally October 17th, 2011

Donate Your Old Cell Phone!

Still have that old cell phone lying around the house? Don't just throw it away, donate it! Any cell phone can be used to call 911, even if it no longer has service.

At Safe Harbor, we keep a supply of donated cell phones with chargers that can be given to clients who may have no other means of contacting the police in an emergency.

Can't find the charger? That's okay! We also accept phones that are missing chargers and batteries. We'll even take that broken cell phone off your hands!

Just drop them by our office during regular business hours,
Monday-Friday, 8:30am-4:30pm.

When leaving an abusive situation, many of Safe Harbor's clients are forced to leave with little or nothing, and often have no means to buy food for themselves and their children. Safe Harbor has a small food pantry available to our clients. However, an increased
